

Learning Foundations Presents:

Coaching for Parents

Connect with your kids academically and emotionally on a deeper level!

LEARNINGFOUNDATIONS

Your children need you to be the very best parent possible as they navigate the challenges of this world. Do you feel equipped to meet their diverse needs? We can equip and support you in the most important role you have in life...that of a parent!

We are very excited to inspire and equip you with valuable learning that will encourage you and grow you as a parent of a child with diverse learning needs!

Your support will be tailored to your needs and strengths, and can include topics such as:

- Calming the emotions in your household
- Motivating your children to do homework and chores
- Instilling an attitude of appreciation and gratitude in your home
- Understanding your children's brains and how to support better brain functioning
- Holding your children accountable to expectations without nagging
- Encouraging your children to be all you know they can be!

After each session, you will have homework to apply new strategies in your home. After you practice these skills, you will reflect on the effectiveness of your application during your scheduled Zoom calls with Pamela.

Program Details:

Our Parent Coaching Program consists of individualized, 45-minute convenient, online Zoom sessions. These sessions occur over a 4-month period either weekly or every other week across this time period. This determination is made by Pamela Iken, the Learning Foundations' Parent Coach and Director of Education after an initial discussion with the parent regarding goals.

PRICING: Sessions are $125.00 per session OR...

SNAG SAVINGS!!! Only $95.00 per session if your student is also working with an Academic Coach
